Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-5 916 264 (VON OEPEN RANDOLF ET AL) 29 June 1999 (1999-06-29)

2. The document D1 is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of claim 1, and shows (see column 1, line 29 - column 2, line 34; figure 1) a stent tissue graft prosthesis, comprising: an expandable stent; a tissue graft disposed on said stent; and tubular member disposed over said stent and said tissue graft.
The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from this known stent tissue graft prosthesis in that , the tubular member is disposed completely over the tissue graft.
The problem solved by subject-matter of Claim 1 is to prevent undesirable eversion or displacement of the tissue graft during placement of the prosthesis and, in particular, when withdrawing a delivery catheter from the prosthesis.
The distinguishing feature is novel and it cannot be derived in obvious manner from cited documents.
Moreover, such a prosthesis is industrially applicable such that all the requirements of Articles 33(2)-(4) PCT are met.
3. Claims 2-11 are dependent on claim 1 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
